WATER JARS WHICH BELONGED TO LIN.

April 6, 1932

Mrs. Lena VanWinkle
636 Hughes Street
Cape May, N. J.

Dear Mrs. VanWinkle:

Dr. Warren has instructed me to inform you that the facilities of our display room would not permit the showing of the the very interesting strands you described in your recent letter. We prefer books, manuscripts, and letters.

Enclosed is some museum literature in which you may be interested, and I wish to thank you for your kindness and courtesy for informing us of these highly interesting pieces, as well as for sending a picture of them.

Yours sincerely,

Ethel Hemeferd

Mr Louis A Warren:-

Dear sir.

I was reading in our local paper where you wanted. I have two jars that belong to Lincoln. They are water jars and very odd + Beautiful. They are very odd ones I have had quite a few after them. The antique men have been quite a nuisance I had a man here from Master. Now they have a number place there for Amiques. He said he never saw anything like them and he want think this was any thing like them in this Country, and that what they all say. A old slave give them to me and they belong to Mr Lincoln the

I will send you a picture of them you can see for your self how odd they are. They have quite a history to them,
I keep them in a vault so you see how valuable they are.
They are for sale.

Fort Wayne, Indiana,

Dear Iris:

In a recent copy of the magazine "The American Home", there is an article illustrated, that gives the information that Lincoln, when president, owned a complete service of "Moon and Star" glassware.

My friends here, who are collectors of such pattern do not believe that this was made so early as the 60's.

May I ask you to tell me if the article reported truthfully, or will you please cite me to the proper authority on Lincoln's ownership of such glass?

Thank you,

Goldie Dale Sheets

My dear Madam:

We have a file here on glass ware and crockery and I have just gone through it and find no records at all with reference to what you designate as Moon and Star glassware.

It seems as if we would have some information here about such a set if the Lincolns had had one.

Very truly yours,

My dear Dr. Warren :

I have in my possession a Wedgewood dinner service for eight (sepia) and an amber colored glass whiskey flask which belonged to Abraham Lincoln.

The above were given to my great-grandmother, Marilla Lincoln, after President Lincoln's death and have been handed down through the family to myself.

I am now offering same for private sale. Would be very happy to hear from you, if interested, or possibly you could turn over this information to one of your colleagues who might be in the market.

Very truly yours,

My dear Mr. Froeff:

We have paid very little attention to china and glass ware as we have no facilities now for exhibiting it.

However, we are keeping your letter on file and in case we should develop an exhibit on this type of Lincolniana we will get in touch with you.

Yours very truly,

President Lincoln Heirlooms Go
On Display At Enoch Pratt Library

Collection and Feb 1938

MISS ANNE OTENASEK

MARY TODD, the wife of Abraham Lincoln, once used the salt dish and the silver spoon ladles that Miss Otenasek is holding. The dish and ladles are now on exhibition at the central building of the Enoch Pratt Library, on Cathedral street, in connection with a window display in honor of Lincoln's Birthday, February 12. The spoons and dish have been lent to the library by Mrs. Philip W. Crosby, 401 Mount Holly street, Mrs. Lincoln's great-great-niece. The initials "M. T." are engraved on the spoons.
